KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 11 .- To-day's game was a plain case of "gift" to Indianapolis. The Blues had it won, and the fans were all feeling good, when, by a miserable display of poor judgment, victory was turned into defeat, and the Hoosiers were allowed to crawl out of a hole where they should have been buried.

When the Hoosiers came to bat in the est half of the ninth inning the Blues were three runs.to the good, and as Daniels was pitching in good form it did not seem pos- two, sible that the visitors had a chance to win out. Their small chance was greatly lessened when Canavan, the first batsman, was retired at first base. Motz, however, that the "game was a gift." The runs were bobbed up with a clean single to right made as follows, received as the plays were bobbed up with a clean single to right and McCarthy dropped a little scratch twobagger back of third base, scoring Motz. Newell went out on a fly to Hernon, and not by a long shot. McFarland was the next batsman, and, though he had only made one scratch hit in the game, Daniels was afraid of him, and concluded to play
"foxy" by presenting him with a base on balls. The spectators hissed the display of Indianapolis tied the score, McFarland usual, it turned out to be the very worst thing that could be done. Instead of allowing Hogan to bat, as Daniels figured, the Hoosiers put in "Bill" Phillips, and the first ball pitched him he "soaked" away out between right and center for three bases, sending in McCarthy and Mc-Farland, tying the score. George Cross then won his own game by cracking the ball over the fence, Phillips scoring the winning run. Cross did not make the circuit, stopping at first base, so he does not get the credit for a home run. It was a highly disgusted crowd which left the stand after the game.

Pete Daniels pitched a very good game of ball, barring the one fatal mistake in the ninth inning. Though hit freely, he kept the hits pretty well scattered, and, with good support, would have held the score of the visitors down to small figures. Cross also pitched well, but the Blues hit him hard enough to win two games, if they had not used bad judgment on the bases, Bergen and Manning both getting caught napping. The fielding of both teams was somewhat ragged and the errors nearly all costly. The Blues were again greatly weakened by the absence of Connaughton, for it not only makes a hole at shortstop, but Carroll does not cover right field as ut Carroll does not cover right field as lines would. Bergen's throwing to second ase was a feature of the game, he catching every one of the Hoosiers who tried to steal. Hogan played a good game for the Hoosiers in center, though he made an error, which did not cost anything. Motz played a good game at first, and Roat made two brilliant stops at short. Score:

THE NEWS HERE.

Hundreds of "Rooters" Go Wild Over that Ninth Inning.

hundred excited "rooters" swarmed around 68 East Wabash street vesterday while the details of the Indianapolis-Kansas City ball game were being teld to the crowd inside. The room was notter the shouting bore a miniature resemblance to the well-known "rooting" in a close game here. There were frantic appeals to Roat, Motz, Hogriever, McCarthy and others to "lift her over the fence," but it remained for the closing inning to gratify, in a bunch, these appeals. The excitement of that last inning was far-reaching. and there was an uproar when the ticker roeled off the delightful information that a moment later when a few more cheerful ticks, interpreted by operator Fuller, told the story of a hit over the fence by Cross. It was the sweetest music the "fans" ever listened to-those yells that went up from all sides. That hit won the game, and the excited crowd streamed out whooping like ndians and scattering everywhere pread the good news.
The last game this afternoon will be ceived in detail and the story told by Mr. Fuller as it comes by wire direct from the Kansas City grounds. Fisher will probably ch unless his leg is in such shape as to

The Kansas City report of yesterday's game, batted out in the ninth inning, something that course at any page. thing that occurs at only rare intervals during a season, is manifestly so unjust that in justice to the home team it should be corrected. The Kansas City man did not reckon on the fact that every ball pitched and every play made was received by a special wire in this city. Instead of the same being a gift to Indianapolis it by a special wire in this city. Instead of the game being a gift to Indianapolis it was the result of Manager Watkins outgeneraling Manning. The Kansas City score does not correctly show the work of the men in either team. The claim is made that catcher Bergen cut off every Hoosier who attempted to steal bases. In the first inning Bergen threw wildly both to second and third, letting Canavan score. In the sixth inning McFarland stole third. Bergen also had two passed balls and permitted steals, but only Hernon, of Kansas City, is credited with a stolen base.

Minth inning is called a "little scratch two-bagger," yet it was long enough for Motz to come home from first base. Hogriever made a sacrifice hit, yet the Kansas City score does not show it. Twice long flies were sent to the outfield, allowing Hoosiers to score, but these do not count with the Cowboy scorer when he compares the hit-ting of the two teams. According to the report received here as the game was in progress Kansas City made only ten hits off Cross, while Indianapolis got sixteen off Daniels. Yet the Kansas City score last night gave thirteen hits off Cross and only fifteen off Daniels. Indianapolis got practically two home runs to their one, two three-baggers to their two, one double to their two, ten singles to their seven, five sacrifice grounders and flies that advanced men a base to their three, and two stolen bases to their one. The score gives Manwhen he made one error when he made three. A summary of the game shows that Indianapolis outbatted and outplayed the Cowboys, and there is no justification for the declaration

"Steve Brodie, B. J., sat in the press box at Milwaukee Park yesterday afternoon and saw the game as it went on below. He puffed away at a Bowery rope until the seventh inning and said nothing worth mentioning. But in the seventh, after Grand Rapids had scored five of their six runs for the inning, and Sharpe had just made his fourth error for the game, Brodie got up and for a minute it looked as though he was going to jump down from the box on to the diamond and rescue the umpire rom the game as he rescues the woman from the river at midnight on the stage after telling audiences in a loud voice that he is Steve Brodie, B. J. But he didn't ump. He simply stood up and talked, and this is what he said: 'For de love of de Jew arount de corner, what's de matter dem stiffs? "Hottentots" Drubbed by "Saints." ST. In all, twenty-eight hits were made off him. The fielding of both teams was ragged, but the terrific batting of the "Saints" mere than offset their errors. St. Paul is now in second place, and is ready to jump into first if the other clubs will assist in holding back the leaders until they come here, when Comiskey hopes to give Indianapolis a worse drubbing than he gave Terre Haute to-day. Any insinuation that Long's men permitted the "Saints" to win this afternoon because of hatred for the leaders is not warranted by the facts. Score:

Get a good hickory pole ready for that The Kansas City rooters must have run short of bologna yesterday. Kansas City and St. Paul will have a very pretty fight for second place from now on, and it is a toss-up which team will finish next to Indianapolis. Umpire McDermott will remain at Milwaukee until the season closes. He will be one of the umpires in the California League during the coming winter. Kansas City wouldn't be satisfied with anything less than two out of three, and really expected to get all three. That was the edict in Monday's Kansas City Star.

It's different now. Sam Thompson never played a better game than he is putting up this season. His popularity is shown by a score card vote which has been going on all the season, and in which he now leads, with a total of 6,199.—Philadelphia Record.

Detroit is playing good enough ball now o throw St. Paul down again to-day. Terre Haute appears to have struck another slide. Still, Comiskey's men may have trouble with the Hottentots in one of the two remaining games of the series. Indianapolis has that series with Kansas City tied sure, and can win it to-day. Five of the victories have been won on the Kansas City grounds and four here, while Manning's men have captured five on the Indianapolis grounds and only three at

That was a sensational finish yesterday, and Indianapolis feels to-day that it has a team superior to anything in the Western League, this season or last. It was a desperate emergency, but the coming champions were equal to it. They are

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 11 .- Edwin first day's racing of the Springfield Bicycle Club's annual tournament, the greatest tournament of the year. Tom Cooper, of Detroit, ran Bald a close second, and Cabanne was third in the mile open and third in the mile handicap from scratch in a field of long marks. The professional races went to Sanger and Porter, the former taking the mile open from Tyler in a most exciting ride and the latter winning the five-mile handicap from scratch in a field of nineteen starters in the good time of 11:34 2-5. In Class A, C. R. Newton, of Stafford Springs, Conn., proved the star, W. S. Reynolds, of Hyde Park, pushing him close in all the contests. Newton lowered the only record of the day-the mile Class A competition, winning the mile open with tandem pacing in 2:04 4-5. Reynolds held the tandem throughout the contest. The latter won the half-mile 1:15 class in 1:02 3-5, which is not a record, although so announced. Loughead has a record of 1:02 1-5 from scratch in a handleap, and Collins, of Denver, won a half-mile paced race in 1:01 4-5. The attendance was 4,000. Tyler's defeat to-day by Sanger in the mile open international professional race was a clean and well-won victory. Gardiner failed to show up in the winning ranks. Bliss rode fourth in the half-mile B race, in a hot finish, and Jenney was fourth in the mile Class B and second in the handicap. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 11 .- With practically no street-car service, owing to the G. A. R. parade, the attendance at Churchill Downs was light to-day, being only best of it, for it was not the favorites' day to win. Dorette, a red-hot favorite, was unable to show in the first, Lucille H. winning handily. They were at the post half an hour. Morte Fonse, a second choice, won the second. The best event of the day was the mile-and-twenty-yard handicap, in which Ingomar, at 4 to 5, was nipped at the wire by The Ironmaster. The track was fast and the weather good. Summaries:

An 80-to-1 Shot Wins. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11,-The largest upset of the meeting since San Blas won at 100 to 1 occurred in the first race to-day, when Lyndhurst galloped home first before a fair field at the enticing odds of 80 to 1. A large crowd was in attendance, despite the extreme heat. Pavorites were successful in the two closing races, while the third and fourth were captured by second choices, with an outsider taking the other race.

First Race—Six furlongs. Lyndhurst, 80 to 1, won; Occula, 6 to 1, second; Aunt Susie, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:16½.

ROBBERS MADE A MISTAKE. Two at the Wrong Place. GRAND JUNCTION, Col., Sept. 11.-Passenger train No. 1, which left this city last Here, also, Rey El Santa Anita started for | night on the Rio Grande Western at 2:10 the leaders, and it seemed as though he o'clock, was held up at the little station at would be in the driving finish. When they | Crevasse, about twenty-three miles west of swung into the stretch Domino was still this city. When the train had gone a short half a length to the good, but was falter- distance from the station the engineer discovered that the engine had been run on a tenacity that has always characterized his | siding, and was pulling only the mail and baggage car, the rear portion of the train having been cut off at the station by two robbers. Evidently the robbers thought they the wire was reached, poked his nose in had detached the express car from the front, and, driving along with undiminished speed, beat the faltering Domino half a length. Rey Ei Santa Anita was far in the rear.

The other feature on the card was the September stakes, which brought together train, but it was only the baggage car. When they discovered their error they mounted their horses in waiting and fied to the mountains. The robbers were each about five feet six inches tall and wore black masks. Each had a Winchester rifle, revolvers and sticks of giant powder. Sherewolvers and sticks of giant powder. Sherewolvers and sticks of giant powder. iff Innes and a posse started at once on a special train for the scene of the attempted robbery.

Attempted Hold-Up in Illinois. KINMUNDY, Ill., Sept. 11 .- Train robbers made an attempt to rob the north-bound Illinois Central express train about two miles north of this city last night. The bandits were three in number, and were riding on the platform of the express car. They cut the bell cord and then attacked the car door with a sledge hammer. Hearing the noise the messenger applied the air brake and brought the train to a stop. This frightened the robbers, who jumped off and made for a cornfield. Three shots were fired at them by the train crew, but without effect. The Illinois Central detectives are on the ground, but as yet no clew to the identity of the robbers has been found.
